

Veritas Research

Misinformation and Information Literacy in the Digital Age

Is the truth always as black and white as it seems?

In the digital age, information can be accessed in a variety of different ways, which makes it easier than ever to falsify information online.

Our capstone project aims to educate users about what misinformation is and essential information literacy skills to help combat it.

Develop helpful information literacy skills from a framework

Learn what misinformation is and how to identify it

View our research and see what others think about misinformation and information literacy

Visit us at [insert website]
Add additional info about Capstone fair

Group 2